

Make Welland safer, mayor urges community leaders

TRIBUNE STAFF
WELLAND

Mayor Damian Goulbourne called on community leaders Thursday to help make Welland a safer community.

"We want to be proactive when it comes to health and safety in our community," Goulbourne said in a press release.

In launching the "Safe Communities" initiative, the mayor welcomed a list of community groups that want to establish Welland as one of a handful of municipalities to adopt the nationwide program.

Goulbourne will sit on the committee with Ward 1 Coun. Pat Chiocchio and Ward 4 Coun. Mary Ann Grimaldi.

Other stake holders will include Conseil Scolaire de District Catholique Centre-Sud, Niagara Catholic District School Board, Niagara EMS, Niagara Regional Police Services, Vital Link Training Services, Welland Fire and Emergency Services, Welland-Pelham Chamber of Commerce, Convergys, Niagara College, Niagara Health System, United Way of South Niagara, Welland and District SPCA, Welland Hydro and the Welland Public Library.

N
DS

bune,
outh
d...