SAFETY ART CONTEST BEGINS

Calling all young artists between the ages of four and 13. The Welland Safe Community Partnership (WSCP) is featuring an art contest where the theme is "someone in Welland who is making their home, work, school or play safer." There are four age categories for the contest, four years, five to seven, eight to ten and 11 to 13 with bikes and helmets awarded to each category's winner. Showing the bicycles are, from left in the front row, Mike Belcastro, president of Seaway Mall; Pat Chioocchio, chairman of WSCP; Karen Walsh, campaign and marketing director of the United Way and Marcel Turpin, steering committee member WSCP. Standing in the background are Alanna Galeota, marketing director of the Seaway Mall; Elmer the Safety Elephant and Rick Demers, vice chair of the WSCP. The contest started Friday and closes June 1 at 5 p.m. Blank contest forms can be picked up at Seaway Mall's customer service desk and completed forms dropped off there. The contest is sponsored by Seaway Mall, the United Way of South Niagara and D'Angelo's Printing, who donated the design and printing of the 20,000 entry forms. For more information, contact WSCP chairman Pat Chioocchio at 905-327-5030.
